Dan Coughlin, Martin Burke and Patrick O'Sullivan Sentenced for Life.

Senior Guardian John F. Beggs Acquitted of Complicity in the Crime and Liberated.

The Verdict of the Cronin Jury Regarded as a Compromise—The Feeling in Chicago.

COUGHLIN. Imprisonment for life. O'SULLIVAN. Imprisonment for life. BURKE. Imprisonment for life. KUNZE. Three years' imprisonment. BEGGS. Not guilty.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Late Monday afternoon the Cronin jury returned the following verdict:

F. Beggs not guilty.

"We, the jury, find the defendant John Kunze guilty of manslaughter as charged, and fix the punishment at imprisonment for three years."

"We, the jury, find the defendants Daniel Coughlin, Patrick O'Sullivan and Martin Burke guilty of murder in the manner and form as charged in the indictment, and fix the penalty at imprisonment in the penitentiary for their natural lives."

After the verdict had been read Mr. Forrest, the jury's counsel, to the question, "Was this and is this your verdict?" each juror gave an affirmative answer.

Mr. Forrest then entered a motion for a new trial, and after a good deal of wrangling, the court granted it on the 13th as the time for hearing arguments on the motion.

When the verdict was about to be announced the five prisoners, sitting in a row behind their lawyers, looked at each other for the order.

It was plain to a close observer that none of them had the slightest idea of what was coming. They were nervous, but they were not alarmed.

When the verdict was read, the prisoners looked at each other with expressions of surprise and interest.

The verdict of the jury was a compromise, and it was regarded as such by the public in Chicago.

THREE INJURED.

Collision on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—The city fire department was notified about 9 o'clock Monday morning that in a train wreck on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois near Oakdale four persons were killed and many injured.

The train is said to have caught fire and many persons were injured by the flames.

One or two persons are also said to have been killed.

The fire engines from Englewood and South Englewood have been called for.

An order was sent to Englewood to have every physician in that suburb sent to the scene of the wreck to care for the suffering.

Oakdale is a small suburb about two miles from South Englewood, or about nine miles from Chicago.

The train wrecked is said to have been one in the suburban service.

LATER—Only three men were injured in the wreck.

The cause of the accident was the collision of a south-bound freight with a north-bound suburban.

Ten Tons Nitro-Glycerine Exploded.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 17.—Three separate glycerine magazines blew up this morning at North Chardon, about seven miles above Warren.

Mr. Clinton, of the Gazette, has broken ground, and his house is to go right up—Kind Providence continues this weather, his location is that beautiful lot 14, fronting east on the Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Shank plan to begin their house this week, if the weather permits. Theirs is a lovely south front on the Park.

You know that Mr. and Mrs. Friol, of the "Journal," have lot 1—the nice lot corner of Clark and Main streets.

Mr. Blair has lot 40; also a south front on Vista avenue north. It is most a charming lot.

Harvey B. Walker, Esq., of lot 8; that perfectly lovely lot at top of the hill beyond the barn on Clark street.

He tells us he expects to be living in his home there, in the early fall of 1890.

We have contracts out for two nice houses, one on lot 38, one of those beautiful Vista avenue north lots, and the other on lot 26 exactly opposite Mr. Clinton's, facing west on Dickson street.

A Long Strike in Prospect.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Dec. 14.—About ten days ago the miners of Walston and Adair, numbering nearly 1,300, held a meeting here and decided to strike if certain demands were not complied with.

The company according to a prior agreement was entitled to a fourteen days' strike.

The men immediately notified the company, and President Merchant promised to consult the directors, but since then the company has been preparing for the strike.

They are now going to go out in the coke ovens, and instead of waiting until the fourteen days were up notified the men that they were discharged.

Unless a compromise be effected a long stubborn strike will be the result. If an attempt is made to convict the miners from their homes or to get a new set of men in the mines there is likely to be serious trouble.

CHRISTMAS!

The 25th day of Dec. brings us face to face with the inevitable Christmas, a holiday recognized and observed by the christian world, in memory of the birth of Christ.

Tradition hands us down the fact that his birth was on a rainy month; while calendarers were not in vogue at that time we are in question to believe, whether December be the appropriate month or not, but coming so near the New Year, makes it a day doubly attractive.

While the public realizes our gigantic undertaking of making a hasty disposition of what is known as the mammoth clothing stock of this section of the country, we are by no means, going to let that day pass oblivious of our attention, but contrary we are going to play an important role, in the way of assisting the multitudes to procure clothing, hats, caps, fine furnishings, etc., at prices that will enable all to follow the custom of bestowing presents upon their friends.

Small gifts if you choose, but what's the use, when you can buy a suit of clothes here, the same price you pay for a hat elsewhere. Fine underwear is also going to suffer in this benefit sale. Seal caps; with out Christmas would be incomplete, are selling at quick disposition prices. Every thing in fact, has a Christmas appearance with prices that will surely verify the above statements. Fur coats, a little large to hang on a Christmas tree, but the prices diminutive enough to hang on a thread, without bearing too heavily on its balance. So wives, mothers, sweethearts, and friends, this ought to be pointer enough for you to know where to purchase. Remember, Jan. 1st ceases this harvest for the bargain seekers. We leave it for you to judge. [Signed]

IOWA AND PROHIBITION.

The State Register of Des Moines, says that "prohibition has proved a failure in a dozen or more counties of Iowa—in the counties containing the larger towns. The Burlington Hawkeye says that "Burlington has its one hundred or more saloons running in defiance of the law." The Des Moines Register further says "it is idle to deny that a great many men are drinking who would be far better off, and their families would be far happier, if they would let liquor entirely alone. These are facts and stubborn ones, too. It will not do to ignore them, for they have a very disagreeable and painful way of forcing attention to themselves."

The Milwaukee Sentinel then goes on to make some other quotations and suggestions as follows:

"The same state of things is found in Maine. According to the New York Evening Post, Capt. McDonald, the president of the Portland Temperance Club, confesses the failure of the attempt to abolish drunkenness by law. 'For more than thirty years,' he says, 'we have heard the booming of guns of every caliber in the war against the rum traffic, and to what purpose? It still exists and thrives in a state where it is prohibited. Why? Simply because law is not a reformatory method to be used in a work of moral reform. The people of Maine have relied too much upon law to do this great work of reform, which it will never accomplish, and the sooner they come to that conclusion, and turn their minds and their efforts in the right direction, the sooner the great work will be accomplished. It would seem that after more than thirty years of experience most men must be convinced that law neither reforms the drunkard, restrains intemperance, nor diminishes the rum traffic to any great extent in our cities.'"

"The failure of prohibition to prohibit is evident. 'The people of Iowa are satisfied that laws are not what are needed so much as the old methods of moral suasion.'"

The Sentinel has been in favor of repealing the prohibitory law and placing the state under the high license system. Other journals have been quite willing to make such a surrender to the law-breakers of Iowa. Whatever may be said of the repeal of the present law as a practical measure, it certainly would be bad for the morals of the state. The better way to do is to adopt the courageous plan of Senator Allison, "enforce the law as best you can, and take no backward step." So long as there is a prohibitory law it should be supported, and if there should be any movement to undo what has already been done for temperance in that state, let the democrats and the third party be held responsible for it.

The Council Bluffs Nonpareil has interviewed twenty-five of the republican members of the Iowa Legislature on the prohibition question, and not one of them but proposes to stand by the present prohibition law in that state. No representatives from the river towns were interviewed for the very good reason that all republicans in these districts were defeated, and do not accords elected in their stead.

And to this the Iowa Ocean adds: "This shows that the republicans of Iowa, representing the real progress of the state, are still the best friends of the prohibition cause, and that the attack made upon them by the third party people who united with democrats last November will react upon that party. If the prohibition law should be repealed in Iowa, third party people will have themselves to hold responsible. They have almost made the state democratic by helping the river towns where the law has been a dead letter because local officers were elected pledged to disregard it in their attempt to overthrow the republican party because that party enacted the law."

THEY WILL DO IT.

It ought to be possible for Mr. McKinley and his colleagues to prepare a very satisfactory and efficient bill in a reasonable time. How long it will take them to get it through the house is another question. They will, doubtless, be hampered as much as possible by the free-traders, but if the bill is reported early in the session it ought to be possible to get it up to the senate before summer. And that will be earlier than the Mills bill was reported.—Norwich Bulletin.

The action of the republican majority already indicates that it proposes to do something practical with the tariff. The democratic minority may attempt to hamper the republicans in their effort to revise the tariff law, but the attempt to hamper the leaders in this reform work will be a good deal like the effort of George Stevenson's supposed "ooo" to stop the locomotive "Rocket." "It would be bad for the ooo."

The republican congress, as has been said repeatedly in the Gazette, has a special opportunity to do itself much honor and the country a splendid service. There is no doubt that the tariff laws need revising. As the country grows in power and increases in wealth, and the industries, the less reason there is for a protective tariff on certain articles. But in this matter of revision which is one almost of supreme moment to this country, the work should be done by the friends of protection, and not by its enemies. The spirit of the Mills bill was to start protection on its road to ruin, and in the revision to discriminate in favor of the south. The democrats in the Fifteenth congress attempted to make the revision sectional, never once attempting to revise the tariff with a view of preserving the protective feature.

The republicans will go at their new work with ability and earnestness. In this they will doubtless have the opposition of the democratic minority, but it is hoped the republicans will maintain a courage and a solidity that will win a victory.

So far as trusts are fostered by the tariff, they might be effectually attacked by a provision of law authorizing the president to suspend the tariff upon any article or class of articles the production of which has been monopolized by an artificial combination. Such an arrangement would be perfectly feasible, and it would go a long way towards showing the country that the republican party is sincere in its avowed opposition to trusts.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Not only does a protective tariff not foster trusts, but it is a fact that free trade England is perfectly plastered with trusts; and those who read Mr. Blaine's speech on trusts last year, will remember that he made the statement that free trade seemed to breed trusts of the very worst sort. Whether the plan proposed by the Tribune will answer the purpose, remains to be seen, but the republicans will do a good thing for the country if it shall use its influence to prevent such combination as shall seek to monopolize the trade in any one article, or to destroying the prices of others.

General John O. Black says: "He is worse than a traitor who seeks to corrupt the ballot box. The soldiers fought to preserve the government, and there is no way to do so except to keep the ballot-box pure. If that cornerstone be shaken the entire structure will be 'overthrown.' Let General Black carry that sentiment in the next democratic campaign, and his party will repudiate him. A corrupted ballot-box is the hope, and only hope, of the democratic party."

Harriet Beecher Stowe comes out with the statement that "everything that ought to happen is going to happen." It seems that Mrs. Stowe is growing feeble-minded. But if her philosophy be true, the republicans are going to have a good time for many years to come.

If the Sullivan-Jackson combination will go to Montana and clean out some of the obstructionists in that state, all will be forgiven.

THE CLAYTON ELECTION CASE.

An Investigation Ordered by the House.—The Arkansas Member's Position.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—A resolution introduced by Mr. Lacey (Iowa) was adopted by the House directing the committee on elections to inquire into the contested election of Clayton against Brockbridge, from the Second district of Arkansas (Clayton having been assassinated while preparing his case). Before the adoption of the resolution Mr. Brockbridge said it had been his intention to offer a resolution of similar import, but since the adjournment of the last Congress proceedings had been taken in relation to the matter, and as the case was throughout its whole organization a Republican court, it had appeared to him that the proprieties of the case demanded that the initiative should be taken by the other side, as it had been. He trusted that a proper disposition would be made of the resolution, and that the action of the committee on elections would be such as to give the amplest range of inquiry that was proper under the jurisdiction of the House.

Democrats and the Silcott Matter.—WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Democratic House caucus which was called for to-night for the purpose of determining the party's position on the Silcott defalcation has been abandoned. The Secretary, however, holds this certification to have been erroneously made and directs that a demand for relinquishment or conveyance of the lands to the United States be made upon the company, in default of which suit will be recommended to set aside the certification.

FOUGHT 105 ROUNDS.

Both Parties to a Battle, Mont., Fought Likely to Die.—BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 17.—George A. Ward, a contractor, and John Gallagher, a miner, fought 105 rounds at Crystal Springs to-day. The fight was one of the most brutal on record, and as a result Ward died, and there are small hopes of Gallagher's recovery. Gallagher's arm was broken in the sixty-fifth round, but he kept on fighting, although he was knocked down eighty-two times in the first ninety-six rounds. In the ninety-seventh round Ward was knocked senseless, and in the 105th round he was again knocked stiff and was not restored to consciousness until forty-five minutes had elapsed.

KILLED HER AFFIANCED.

A Missouri Farmer's Daughter Falls a Victim Through Her Heart.—KANSAAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 17.—A special from Jefferson City, Mo., relates the details of a terrible tragedy that occurred in Calloway county to-day, fifteen miles from Jefferson City. Louisa Epperson, the 19-year-old daughter of a wealthy farmer, shot and killed her affianced lover, Julius Haefner. He was teasing her at the dinner table for having received a visit from a neighbor, Philip Ackerman, the evening before when she left the dining room and returning with a pistol shot him in the back of the head. He died instantly, and the body did not fall from the chair.

Actor Barrett Submits to an Operation.—BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 17.—An entirely successful surgical operation was most skillfully performed upon Mr. Lawrence Barrett this morning, consisting of the removal of some lymphatic glands of the throat. The operation was a long one, but Mr. Barrett's general health is excellent, and he rallied splendidly from the ordeal. As soon as he is fairly convalescent he will go to Krengnach, Germany, or some other watering place for rest and recreation.

The London Gas Strike Falls.—LONDON, Dec. 16.—The strike of the employees of the South Metropolitan Gas company has proven a failure, the company having filled all the strikers' places with non-union men. There have been no disturbances and work at the gas house is proceeding quietly.

The committee of the striking gas men at Manchester and Salford announce that their funds are exhausted, and they advise the men to ask the companies to take them back in their employ.

It Has Been Eminentely Pleased

The way the Tea Gown, and House Robe sale has been received by the ladies of Janesville. We have shown to these purchasers a larger VARIETY of these beautiful garments than is shown by any merchant in Chicago. Our stock is not so large, but FIRST CLASS in every particular.

There can be no present more acceptable to a lady than one of these garments. Gentlemen make a note of it. It seems now to us likely that the rush toward the end of the month will be beyond our capacity to meet and hence we suggest that you call early if you want a Gown.

Again we will mention the department for the making of order of LITTLE GIRLS' OUTFITS of all kinds. Our friend Miss Arquit will gladly talk this matter up with ladies and she's most assuredly an ARTIST in this line, and we can please any mother who cares to have such work done.

Yours very truly,

Dyspepsia

Many too many miserable, and often leads to self destruction. Distress after eating, headache, heartburn, sour stomach, mental depression, etc., are caused by this very common and increasing disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla tones the stomach, creates an appetite, promotes healthy digestion, relieves sick headache, clears the mind, and cures the most obstinate cases of dyspepsia.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I felt as though I had been stabbed with a knife, as though I had not eaten anything. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food tasted delicious. It was the best medicine I ever experienced. I relieved me of that faint, tired, all-gone feeling. I have felt so much better since I took Hood's Sarsaparilla that I am happy to recommend it to all who are afflicted with dyspepsia. N. B. Be sure to get only Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by druggists. $1.50 per bottle. Prepared by C. L. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

OBITUARY.

MRS. THOMAS KEYES.

Died, at her home, No. 51 North Franklin street, Mrs. Phoebe O. Keyes, wife of Thomas Keyes, aged sixty-one years. Mrs. Keyes had been sick a few hours being first taken with paralysis of the brain at three o'clock this morning and expired at ten minutes to six. She was a devout christian woman and her sudden death will be mourned by a large circle of friends beside the bereaved family.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

BET KING.

The sad news of the death of Bert King has been received in the city. The sorrowful event occurred at San Marcos, Texas, where he had gone in search of health. He was compelled to give up his place in Vankirk Bros. store last June, and about the first of September, with his brother, James, went to New Mexico, hoping that the climate would relieve him of his terrible disease—consumption. But instead of improving, he grew steadily worse, and died day before yesterday. The remains are expected to arrive in this city to-morrow.

Notice of funeral will be given later.
